MUSCLE SHOALS, AL — Andrew Logsdon has joined Wise Metals Group as President of Wise Recycling. The position, which reports to Wise Metals Group Executive Vice President/COO, Wes Oberholzer, will be located at the recycling center's headquarters in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Logsdon comes to Wise Recycling from Alcoa Energy, where he was Finance Director and Business Integration Manager. While at Alcoa, he served as the Controller and Finance Director of US Primary Products, the Controller of Alcoa's Massena operations, the Controller and Finance Director of Global Foil, and the Director of Energy Risk Management. Logsdon also worked for MidAmerican Energy Company in Des Moines, Iowa, most recently as its Vice President of Gas Products. He earned a degree in Mechanical Engineering from Iowa State University and an MBA from New York University.

“Andy brings an understanding of our industry and the financial management skills that will help us propel our recycling division forward,” said Wes Oberholzer, Wise Metals Group’s Executive Vice President and COO. “Our recycling operation is one of the largest direct-from-the-consumer recycling companies in the country, and we are in an aggressive growth mode. We are happy to have Andy leading that growth, and know that he will be a welcome addition to the Wise family of companies.”

Wise Metals Group is the holding company whose divisions include Wise Alloys, the nation’s third largest producer of aluminum can stock for the beverage and food industries; Wise Recycling, one of the largest direct-from-the-public collectors of aluminum beverage containers in the United States; Total Maintenance Center, which provides maintenance, fabrication and repair to manufacturing and industrial plants worldwide; and Alabama Electric Motor Service, which sells and repairs industrial electric motors. Wise Metals Group announced its corporate relocation to the Shoals area of Alabama in the fall of 2011.
